Subject: Re: accessing image data from Windows-clipboard
Posted by badjelly.witch on Tue, 16 Jan 2007 02:13:18 GMT

holg wrote:
> Hello,
>
> I want to use image data from a windows program outside IDL 6.2. For > this I create a screenshot using the "print screen" key. Is there an > IDL-functionality, that allows to access the image data from the > Microsoft Windows clipboard?

Not that i know of. IDL can write image data to the clipboard easily enough, but not read it.

Doubtless it would be possible to write something suitable in C or Python or Java or something and then link this to IDL. Possible, but not easy.

You might want to consider revising your requirements.