Good morning,

I have just gotten myself a widescreen monitor and found it was time to adjust the IDLDE to a more usable layout. So after 5+ years I finally got rid of the project window that I never used and split the IDLDE to show the IDL output on the left side and my code on the right side. All looks beautiful, but I have trouble making the layout stick. When I quit IDL and restart it is back to the original format. Is there a way to carve the layout in stone???

Thanks for helping,
Haje
