

---

Subject: Re: Histogram looks like spiky bars

Posted by David Fanning on Fri, 16 Mar 2007 20:41:01 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

rpertaub@gmail.com writes:

- > I have an image for which I want to make a histogram. I just do plot,
- > histogram(image) with xrange being my 14 bit image size (~16000).
- > ANYway, what I get is a bunch of vertical lines of different lengths.
- > I want a smooth curve, not discrete lines.
- > How do i do that?

I think you are going to have to make your bin size larger so you can "smooth" the data more. Apparently your data is in very few discrete values.

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---