
Subject: Re: surface plot in not clear for larger image size?
Posted by David Fanning on Thu, 29 Mar 2007 16:24:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

vijay writes:

> Hi, i had tried to plot a large image(400 x 400) using the surface > command. The result is not clear that is there is no wire mesh like > appearance. the whole data is clubbed together i can't able to see the > variations. But when i had taken a small subset of that image and > plotted, there i can able to get the wire mesh look. Could any one > tell me how to get the clear wire mesh image for a larger image size > 400 x 400 or above.

Try plotting it on your new 10,000 by 10,000 pixel display.

Cheers,

David

P.S. Of course, there is always the Surface, Rebin(data, 100, 100) method, too.

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
