Hi, i had tried to plot a large image(400 x 400) using the surface command. The result is not clear that is there is no wire mesh like appearance. the whole data is clubbed together i can't able to see the variations. But when i had taken a small subset of that image and plotted, there i can able to get the wire mesh look. Could any one tell me how to get the clear wire mesh image for a larger image size 400 x 400 or above.

bye
