Hey, I'm an astrophysicist. I don't think we're allowed to have any real computer science credentials. :-) (Well, apart from a few notable exceptions like J.D., whose very impressive CUBISM IRS-spectral-cube-building application just saved me untold hours of work last night. But I, sadly, am mostly just another one of the great unwashed masses of scientists who can only dream of someday writing code like that.)
