
Subject: Re: tiff to eps
Posted by mchinand on Thu, 26 Apr 2007 19:14:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <MPG.209ab4667a64d0a0989f62@news.frii.com>,
David Fanning <news@dfanning.com> wrote:
> David Fanning writes:
>
>> I would guess it depends entirely on how big you want >> the PostScript image to be. Why don't you try it and >> see? It is only a couple of commands:
>>
>> Read_JPEG, filename, image
>> Set_Plot, 'PS'
>> Device, /color, bits=8, /encap, xsize=5, ysize=3.5, /inches
>> TVImge, image
>> Device, /Close
>
> Well, lots of good non-IDL solutions. But in my little > test, using the rose.jpg file from the IDL distribution.
> I got a file that weighed in at a hefty 204 KBytes. :-)
>

Considering that rose.jpg is only 5756 bytes, that's quite an increase.

```
prompt> ls -l rose.jpg
-rw-r--r--  1 xfs users 5756 Jun 29  2005 rose.jpg
```
