
Subject: Re: IDL - COM export bridge

Posted by raval.chintan on Wed, 06 Jun 2007 11:13:08 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Jun 6, 4:03 pm, raval.chin...@gmail.com wrote:

> Dear All,

>

> As I am using the IDL export bridge for the COM connectivity of IDL.

> I am using hello world program given in help. When ever I am building > the application IDL prompts error that devenv not set in path. unable > to compile.

>

> I have tried to set the VC++ path in PATH environment variable. but > still I am facing the the same problem

>

> If any body has used this feature kindly let me know which path i need > to set.

>

> I am using IDL 6.4 and Windows XP and Microsoft visual studio .net

> 2005 as development enviroment.

>

> -Chintan

> (C Programmers never die. They are just cast into void)

I think user needs to set IDE folder path. When i tried it out , my project build fails.

-Chintan
