
Subject: Re: Fill value problem in MODIS Processing...
Posted by James Kuyper on Wed, 27 Jun 2007 15:35:14 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

DirtyHarry wrote:

...

> As you can see, Terra overpassed near Korean peninsula sometimes > once, sometimes twice, sometimes three times a day in 2003. In > addition, I found some missing days, but I don't know why. Anyway, the Korea is far enough north that, under normal conditions there should be at least one MODIS day-mode overpass every single day. However, < http://modaps.nascom.nasa.gov/services/production/outages_terra.html > lists a number of times in 2003 when conditions were not normal. Have you seen any gaps not mentioned in that list?
