

---

Subject: Re: who ate my byte?

Posted by rtowler on Mon, 23 Jul 2007 17:39:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On Jul 23, 2:06 pm, kBob <KRD...@gmail.com> wrote:

Thanks for the replies... I figured it was something like this.

Paolo, you've helped explain some 'weird' behavior I was seeing. I'm receiving packets with fields terminated by null bytes and I know now I need to be careful how I parse the string data.

>> N 60 29.76

>> W 178 42.48

>

> What are you doing in the middle of the Bering Sea? I thought David

> Fanning was our one and only IDL Globe Trekker.

David may not be the only globe trekker, but he gets to go to much nicer places than I :)

N 61 46.00

W 179 56.22

-r

---