
Subject: Re: Gif output for Wave

Posted by todd on Wed, 17 Jan 1996 08:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <4dfb47$22m@saba.info.ucla.edu>, todd@artemis.ess.ucla.edu (Todd Ratcliff) writes:

> In article <4d6g80$a47@news.tamu.edu>, woody@gergu3.tamu.edu (Woody Lee) writes:

> >

> > Has anyone written or come across a gif output routine for PV-WAVE? It would be a > > nice addition to a good package.

> > --

> > ----- woody@gergu3.tamu.edu -=|= http://gergu3.tamu.edu/~woody -----

> > Woody Lee, Research Associate | "That's the whole problem with science.

> > GERG - Texas A&M University | You've got a bunch of empiricists trying

> > 727 Graham Road MS 3149 | to describe things of unimaginable wonder."

> > College Station, TX 77845 | - Calvin (& Hobbes)

> > -----Phone: (409) 862-2323x122-=|= FAX: (409) 862-1347 -----

>

>

> If you grab the IDL demo version from RSI's anonymous ftp site, you will > find in the idl/lib/usrlib section several routines to read and write images of > many different formats (including write_gif.pro). Many require absolutely no > modification to run under PV-WAVE. Most modifications are trivial, for instance > the TVRD() procedure requires arguments in WAVE, but doesn't in IDL.

>

>

> --

>

> Todd Ratcliff | (310)825-3118

> UCLA Geodynamics Research Group | todd@artemis.ess.ucla.edu

> Dept. of Earth & Space Sciences | http://artemis.ess.ucla.edu/~todd/home.html

>

My Apologies, Woody pointed out to me the write_gif.pro routine in the IDL userlib calls a procedure called ENCODE_GIF which isn't available as IDL source. So write_gif.pro isn't usable in WAVE. The routines tiff_write.pro and write_pict.pro will work in WAVE, however (I think some minor mods to write_pict.pro are required).

--

Todd Ratcliff | (310)825-3118

UCLA Geodynamics Research Group | todd@artemis.ess.ucla.edu

Dept. of Earth & Space Sciences | http://artemis.ess.ucla.edu/~todd/home.html
