Subject: Re: EPS printouts from IDL 4.0.1
Posted by Dale Bailey on Thu, 11 Jan 1996 08:00:00 GMT

Thanks for all your responses. If only the use of PostScript vs Encapsulated PostScript had been included in a brief statment in the IDL manual I wouldn't have had this confusion! The only time I have used PostScript previously is (unknowingly) when I send something to the printer.
Just to complete the discussion, I found that the /DATA keyword used with an XYOUTS call, after SET_PLOT,'ps', allowed me to position text easily on the PostScript plot.

Thanks again.