In fairness, I will admit there have been improvements in IDL since 6.1. At least there have been if you make your definition of "improvement" broad enough to encompass iTools. But, with one or two exceptions (which, I am sorry, I can't think of at the moment), the improvements have benefited someone other than me.

Oh!! I use the mouse-wheel capability on draw widgets!

I'm grateful for that, and I'll go cross it off my list right now.

Cheers,

David
