Subject: Re: IDL 7.0/Eclipse DE memory hogger
Posted by Vince Hradil on Wed, 05 Dec 2007 23:34:01 GMT

On Dec 5, 5:17 pm, rochelle <rmccre...@gmail.com> wrote:
> Hi,
> I installed the new version of IDL on my pc to have a look at the DE.
> I did notice on Windows XP the application chews up large amount of > memory.
> IDL 6.4 running the DE takes up about 11MB, whereas IDL 7.0 chews > about 90MB, plus about 30MB for java.
> Given I have limited memory resources and often need to load large > data sets, I'm wondering if there is a way to reduce the overhead. Or > should I just stick to 6.4?

Does it release any memory after it is done "Analyzing code..."?