Folks,

I will say this, grudgingly. It has taken me well over a week to get my head around it, and I am not used to working in this way, and I am not at all comfortable with IDL 7 yet, but I am beginning to perceive, however dimly, some of its virtues. I'm even beginning to understand a little bit of how it works. There is something here, anyway. That's all I'm saying.

Cheers,

David
