
Subject: Re: DELVAR in IDL7.0 for windows

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 17 Dec 2007 13:57:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Spon writes:

```
> maybe it's just something about the way I've got things set up, but I > can't seem to get Variable Watch to update correctly after I use > DELVAR to delete more than one variable at a time since I upgraded to > v7.0 - is anyone else having this problem?
>
>> a=1&b=2
>> delvar,a,b
> ; check variable watch -> still says b is defined as value 2, type INT
>> help,b
> IDL> B          UNDEFINED = <Undefined>
>
> As far as I can tell this seems to happen to all parameters that > DELVAR is called with after the first one, which is handled correctly.
> Can anyone replicate this?
```

Yes, looks like a bug to me. Have you reported it?

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
