Subject: Re: jpegs and tiffs
Posted by David Fanning on Thu, 27 Dec 2007 21:08:52 GMT

Josh writes:

> This makes sense -- unfortunately neither solution worked. I tried > both > quality=100 and RED='0000FF'XL (as well as both at the same time) and > I always > get two apparently black lines in the jpeg, but a colored line in the > tiff.
> When I try LTGRAY='CCCCCC'XL, the jpeg does show the line as being > light > gray. It seems that the jpeg understands grayscale.

Humm. Sure you are using a 24-bit display? What does HELP, /DEVICE tell you? What application are you using to view your JPEG files?

Color! Scheesh!

Cheers,

David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")