Subject: Re: How to change the menu langauge for IDL v7.0?
Posted by David Fanning on Thu, 27 Dec 2007 17:42:27 GMT

Bob Crawford writes:

> I don't yet have IDL 7.0, but I suspect ISO 639 might be a good place > to start.
> Until there's confirmation from IITVIS, I'd suggest trying these:
>
>> Chinese (Traditional & Simplified)
>
> (zh)?
>
>> Dutch
>
> (nl)
>
>> German
>
> (de)
>
>> Korean
>
> (ko)
>
>> Portuguese
>
> (pt)
>
>> Russian
>
> (ru)

Ah, good, thanks. The ZH is trying, but perhaps I just don't have the right fonts installed on my system. I'll make and post a list so we don't all have to search for this information again.

Cheers,

David
--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")