Well, it wasn't really so bad. We didn't do a lot of what you might call "work" with the IDL Workbench, but people generally got along fine. It helped to have huge monitors, but when everyone gets these, our problem will be solved. :-)

Cheers,

David

P.S. We really need to get that WSHOW thing solved, though. Even I got confused a time or two when graphics windows and dialogs showed up behind the Workbench instead of in front of it.
