Subject: Re: Annoying but (seemingly) harmless warning Posted by cmoller on Thu, 08 May 2008 10:39:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On May 6, 11:23 am, Jonathan Joseph <j...@cornell.edu> wrote:

- > I just got a new mac (macbook pro running leopard 10.5.2) and installed IDL
- > 7.0. Up til now, I've worked on sun solaris and windows pc, and have not
- > upgraded to 7.0 yet on those machines.
- > Anyway, when I start IDL and open a graphics window (IDL> window) or run any
- > application that creates a graphics window, I get the following error
- > message:

>

> % Program caused arithmetic error: Floating underflow

>

- > But after that everything seems to work properly. This message only appears
- > once, the first time a window is created and never again during the IDL
- > session so it's not really too obtrusive. Though so far I've only done
- > some cursory tests on this installation to make sure things work.

>

- > I Just wanted to mention it in case something really isn't working that's
- > going to come back and bite me later.

>

> Anyone else seen this problem?

>

> Thanks.

>

> -Jonathan

Hi Jonathan,

I have the same system and also get this error only under the conditions you describe. I have not experienced any obvious problems so it appears to be benign.