
Subject: Re: Annoying but (seemingly) harmless warning

Posted by cmoller on Thu, 08 May 2008 10:39:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On May 6, 11:23 am, Jonathan Joseph <j...@cornell.edu> wrote:

> I just got a new mac (macbook pro running leopard 10.5.2) and installed IDL > 7.0. Up til now, I've worked on sun solaris and windows pc, and have not > upgraded to 7.0 yet on those machines.
>
> Anyway, when I start IDL and open a graphics window (IDL> window) or run any > application that creates a graphics window, I get the following error > message:
>
> % Program caused arithmetic error: Floating underflow
>
> But after that everything seems to work properly. This message only appears > once, the first time a window is created and never again during the IDL > session - so it's not really too obtrusive. Though so far I've only done > some cursory tests on this installation to make sure things work.
>
> I Just wanted to mention it in case something really isn't working that's > going to come back and bite me later.
>
> Anyone else seen this problem?
>
> Thanks.
>
> -Jonathan

Hi Jonathan,

I have the same system and also get this error only under the conditions you describe. I have not experienced any obvious problems so it appears to be benign.
