AVI with MS Video 1 codec, 85% quality. Play it with Imagen. All you need (on Windows, anyway).

Re animated PNG, I'm sceptical. A group of enthusiastic, very smart people spent years developing MNG with the intention it would replace animated GIFs. All that effort came to nothing, basically, because 10 years on there are very few applications that support it. As to the reasons for the failure, I'm sure someone could write a book about it.
