On Jul 1, 11:56 am, "Haje Korth" <haje.ko...@nospam.jhuapl.edu> wrote:
> Hi,
> I noticed that the IDL 7.0.3 update is now available via the eclipse update > feature. What if I wanted a standalone updater, e.g., for a machine not > hooked to the net? Does anyone know where to get this? The download site > offers a 7.0.3 update for scientific data formats. Is that all that changed?
> Maybe I just stumbled on it too early....

I know that it has support for IDLdoc. If you right click in the text editor, you can "Add Routine Comments" and "Add File Comments" which will insert IDLdoc formatted comments into the text (and there is an IDLdoc tab in the Preferences to control what goes in there). Also, if you mouse over a routine call in an editor window where that routine has an IDLdoc formatted header, the header will be nicely displayed in the tooltip.

Not sure what else is in there, though.

Mike
--
www.michaelgalloy.com
Tech-X Corporation
Software Developer II