Douglas Dirks writes:

> IDL Workbench updates (like 7.0.3) affect only > the Eclipse-based development environment. At > present, ITT VIS doesn't have a way for a Workbench
> update to modify any part of IDL's core -- routines
> that are "internal" to IDL (like FFT) or routines
> written in .pro code and contained in IDL's lib directory.
>
> Any time IDL's core changes, the value of !VERSION > changes. The version number in the "About IDL Workbench" > dialog (Help->About IDL Workbench) reflects only > the version of the set of Eclipse plugins that comprise > the IDL Workbench.

My understanding was that part of these updates included new HDF and CDF code in IDL. Did these not get included in the update in the end?

Cheers,

David
--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")