Subject: ENVI on Fedora Core 9 in VMware virtual machine

Hello, I have recently configured a VMware virtual machine with Fedora Core 9. I installed IDL and ENVI without any errors. I can start IDL and contact the license server. When I try to do anything graphical, I get a segmentation fault. This includes launching ENVI. I can launch idlde and start the IDL workbench. Typing tv, dist(200) gets me a Fatal error.

I am not sure if my problem relates to Fedora Core 9, or the fact that I am running under a virtual machine. The only tech tips on ittvis.com that come up are old and relate to FC 6. Does anyone have ENVI running successfully under either or both of these?
