
Subject: Re: HDF_VD_WRITE for string data
Posted by David Fanning on Tue, 14 Oct 2008 13:29:53 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Brian writes:

> Obviously.
>
> The point of the sample program above is to save v3 as a string, not > as a byte array, in the HDF file.

I'm just suggesting this might be as good as it gets.
Maybe it's smarter than that, but I get more cynical with age, not less. :-(

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
