Folks,

Another Mac question. Somehow I got the IDL Workbench behind the "Apple" bar at the top. Now I can't move the darn thing, or even close it. I have the same problem when the program gets resized and the resizing point on the lower-right of the window goes behind the application icons on the bottom. How to cope?

Thanks,

David

P.S. Of course, the Workbench knows where it is suppose to come up now, so it's, uh, sort of useless to me. :-(
