Subject: Re: Workbench: Run idl several times
Posted by R.Bauer on Wed, 12 Nov 2008 09:00:47 GMT

Mark schrieb:
> On Nov 11, 6:47 am, Rick Towler <rick.tow...@nomail.noaa.gov> wrote:
>> There has been an idl shell for windows since >> the release of 7.0. It is available via the >> code contrib site as "wincl_7.0.0.1.zip"
>
> Well I'll be... I've been submitting feature requests for one of those > for a decade now. And now there's been one for 12 months and I didn't > know. I clearly need to stay in more.
>
> By the way, David, can I expect to see IDL's netCDF library upgraded > to version 4 Real Soon Now?

Why do you think David knows that. The last update to the current has taken several years and it was all the time only a five minute job to get a recent netCDF dlm lib for linux/unix by make_dll.

If you don't do this yourself for at least five years it won't be built in ;)

cheers
Reimar