Clearly flexIm doesn't like vista. I doubt that 6.0 is supported under vista and you may be out of luck. Some ideas:

Do you have "fast user switching" (or whatever it is called in vista) enabled? Can it be disabled as it can in XP?

Contact tech support and see if they can generate a license file that allows for Terminal Server remote clients (this is an option with at least some flexIm licensed products).

Run XP and IDL 6.0 in a virtual machine on your vista PC.

Install XP on your PC.

Update IDL to a version that is supported in vista.

Not very helpful, I know...
