On Dec 15, 2:01 am, Allard de Wit <allard.de...@wur.nl> wrote:
> Raghu wrote:
>> Hi,
>
>> Here's an ENVI-IDL related question. I downloaded the Modis conversion >> toolkit from IITVIS's website to process MODIS HDF images.I want to be >> able to batch process the data since i have many files. The procedure >> works fine when i use the GUI but it can't find the >> convert_modis_data.sav file to run the IDL script. The documentation >> says i have to place the convert_modis_data.sav file in the save_add >> directory. But, the file does not come along with the MCTK package. I >> only see the user guide and the envi GUI toolkit.
>
>> Is convert_modis_data.sav a separate file that is to be downloaded?
>> Where am i going wrong?
>
>> Thanks,
>> Raghu
>
> 'convert_modis_data' is a routine inside the MCTK package. If you can > access MCTK from the GUI, then you already have the > 'convert_modis_data' routine and you can access it from the command > prompt or script.
>
> Allard

Hi Allard,

Thanks for your reply. I misspelt one of the keywords wrong and hence it was complaining. It works now.

Thanks,
Raghu