

---

Subject: Re: Compiling errors

Posted by loebasboy on Thu, 18 Dec 2008 09:37:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 17 dec, 13:37, "Jean H." <jghas...@DELTHIS.ucalgary.ANDTHIS.ca> wrote:

> loebasboy wrote:

>> I have a procedure where i use a self written function in. If I >> compile the procedure and then type in the command line the following:

>

>> .reset_session

>> resolve_all

>

>> all dependent functions are compiled. Then if i try to run the >> procedure I get an error on the line where i use the self written >> function:

>

>> % Keyword parameters not allowed in call.

>

>> I've rewritten the function some time ago with different input >> parameters as a result. If I then compile the self written function >> manually, everything works.

>

> is it a system function?

> Do you still have the old one in your path? ... I have found IDL7 to use > the dumbest file it could (like function_backup.pro will be used before > function.pro)

>

>> What seems to be the problem here? Am I doing something wrong here, >> apart for rewriting the function.

>

>> Also, if I use 'resolve_all' with IDL + ENVI on, i get alot of errors, >> with being the first:

>

>> % Attempt to call undefined procedure/function: 'ADAPT_FILT_EVENT'.

>

>> What am I doing wrong?

>

> Nothing, resolve_all calls all (really all of them?) Envi functions when > Envi is open... nothing to worry about!

>

> Jean- Tekst uit oorspronkelijk bericht niet weergeven -

>

> - Tekst uit oorspronkelijk bericht weergeven -

Thanks for the answer, the self written function is called

'read_hdf5'. A function that is not a system function by my knowing.

The only thing resembling is the example program 'ex_read_hdf5'.

---