
Subject: Re: scatter plots make large PostScript files
Posted by pyoachim on Fri, 02 Jan 2009 18:47:38 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Jan 1, 1:35 pm, Ed Hyer <ejh...@gmail.com> wrote:

- > Too large, in fact. In this case, I want the scatter as an underlay to
- > a line plot showing the averaged data. But the resulting EPS file is
- > just too huge. Any tips/tricks/brilliant ideas on how to get the plot
- > I want with a manageable EPS file size?

What I often advocate in these situations is using hist2d and contour to plot the underlying data as a contour plot.
