Subject: Re: scatter plots make large PostScript files
Posted by anand on Fri, 02 Jan 2009 08:54:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Jan 2, 12:35 am, Ed Hyer <ejh...@gmail.com> wrote:
> Too large, in fact. In this case, I want the scatter as an underlay to > a line plot showing the averaged data. But the resulting EPS file is > just too huge. Any tips/tricks/brilliant ideas on how to get the plot
> I want with a manageable EPS file size?

you can use the keyword NSUM while plotting. it is like binning the available data. NSUM=10 would reduce the number of data points in the scatter from say, N, to N/10.

Anand.