Subject: Re: Help needed to create image frames from dataset (mpeg movie) Posted by loebasboy on Tue, 06 Jan 2009 08:24:33 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

```
On 6 jan, 06:37, Kim <adisn...@hotmail.com> wrote:
> Hi,
>
 I'd really appreciate if someone can help me out here.
> I have 2-d data sets of x and y coordinates in time t.
 For example,
 At Time = 1 \sec,
>
          Х
>
                      У
                      20
          10
>
>
           20
                      14
           4
                      8
>
>
>
>
> At Time = 2sec,
>
>
           Χ
                     У
           23
>
                      8
           3
                      9
>
            44
                      34
>
>
>
```

- > And so on..
- > At this format, I have approximately several hundreds of datasets of x
- > and y
- > How can I make these data files into individual image frame such that
- > those frames can be used in mpeg movie, which is the next step.
- > Thank you very much!!!

You should create a 3D data matrix (X,Y,T) with the data and then read the next link and thank David for it.

http://www.dfanning.com/tips/how_mpeg.html

next time, do a simple google search before you ask something like this, with 'mpeg IDL' the above link was the first thing that popped up...