
Subject: Re: Help needed to create image frames from dataset (mpeg movie)

Posted by loebasboy on Tue, 06 Jan 2009 08:24:33 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On 6 Jan, 06:37, Kim <adisn...@hotmail.com> wrote:

> Hi,

>

> I'd really appreciate if someone can help me out here.

>

> I have 2-d data sets of x and y coordinates in time t.

> For example,

>

> At Time = 1sec,

x	y
10	20
20	14
4	8
.	.
.	.
.	.

> At Time = 2sec,

x	y
23	8
3	9
44	34
.	.
.	.
.	.

> And so on..

> At this format, I have approximately several hundreds of datasets of x > and y.

> How can I make these data files into individual image frame such that > those frames can be used in mpeg movie, which is the next step.

>

> Thank you very much!!!

You should create a 3D data matrix (X,Y,T) with the data and then read the next link and thank David for it.

http://www.dfanning.com/tips/how_mpeg.html

next time, do a simple google search before you ask something like this, with 'mpeg IDL' the above link was the first thing that popped up...
