On Mar 11, 9:33 am, kBob <KRD...@gmail.com> wrote:
>   What is the connection between SECC's OpenADDE and IDL?
>
>   The documentation indicates it has built-in support for IDL (along > with other packages). I was just wondering if anyone new what this > built-in capabilites where, before I decide to install this free > package from SEEC to access their weather data servers.
>
> This is what I am refering to:
>
> http://www.ssec.wisc.edu/mcidas/software/openadde/
>
> Kelly Dean
> Fort Collins, CO.

OK, the kind folks at SSEC provided me with an answer.

With OpenADDE Java interface, it can be access thru the IDL Java Bridge to download weather satellite imagery and weather radar data driectly into IDL.

 Sounds interesting enough, that I'll have to try it out. Now where is that Java Bridge documentation......

Kelly Dean
Fort Collins, CO