Folks,

That is ENVI "do Its", not ENVI "dolts". I find the ENVI documentation--if you can believe this--even more impenetrable than the IDL documentation. But I see everything can be done in batch mode by using the ENVI_DOIT procedure. All you need is the name of the "doit" procedure you are suppose to use. Alas, I find no record of any of these "doit" procedures in a 20 minute search of the documentation.

Surely they must be here and I'm a dolt for not finding them. But can anyone give me a clue? :-(

Cheers,

David
