

---

Subject: Re: Saving Current Graphics Window in TIFF
Posted by David Fanning on Tue, 09 Jun 2009 12:28:16 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Wox writes:

> WRITE_TIFF, filename, TVRD(/TRUE)
>
> Why do you think you need a floating point tiff?

I would guess because the person wants to do science with it later. Hard to do with a image that only tells you about *color*. :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---