This is one of my very biggest weaknesses. I need to learn to move on in the face of insurmountable technical hurdles. :-(

Partly, I think, I am just reluctant to admit that IDL--my life for the last 20 years--is becoming increasingly irrelevant to me. Geez, if I can't do map projections with it, what's the point?

For what it's worth, I do think the numbers are correct.
I just don't think it is possible to set up this map projection in IDL. I'm certainly to the point now where I would be willing to bet some money on it. :-)

Cheers,

David
