
Subject: Re: hashmap in idl

Posted by David Fanning on Tue, 21 Jul 2009 12:30:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

b.a writes:

```
> Thanks. HashTable is exactly what I want and I gone through the > relevant page for that. But still I can't write even a simple code to > actually use hashTable. I mean I am confused about the syntax. Is it > like I have to define each method in a separate program and then call > them from main?
> I also tried the following which is the example provided, but no > progress.
>
> pro test
>
>   mylist = Obj_New("LINKEDLIST", 5)
>   mylist->Add, 10
>   mylist->Add, 7, 1, /Before
>   mylist->Add, 12
>   print, mylist->Get_Item(/All, /Deref)
>   mylist->Replace_Item, 1, 'Bob' >   mylist->Help
>   mylist->Delete
>   mylist->Help, /Print
>
> end
```

I'm not sure I understand you question. This example works perfectly, as far as I can tell. Is something else happening for you?

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
