
Subject: Re: Question about the installation of IDL AACGM DLM

Posted by Michael Galloy on Fri, 31 Jul 2009 13:14:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

"duxiyu@gmail.com" <duxiyu@gmail.com> wrote:

> Hi, all.

>

> IDL AACGM DLM is a Dynamic Link Module (DLM) for converting between > geographic and altitude-adjusted corrected geomagnetic (AACGM) > coordinates.

> http://dysprosium.jhuapl.edu/idl_aacgm/

>

> I want to install it. Here is a step in the instruction of > installation.

> "Then set the environment variable AACGM_PATH to the directory that > holds the coefficient files

> plus the prefix of the file name up to the year."

> But I cannot find the environment variable AACGM_PATH, and do not know > how to set it.

>

> Is there anyone who can give me a help?

What platform are you on?

Mike

--

www.michaelgalloy.com

Associate Research Scientist

Tech-X Corporation
