

---

Subject: Re: problem computing area

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 05 Oct 2009 12:05:09 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

aetherlux writes:

> I am trying to compute the area of this figure with > IDLanROI:ComputeGeometry
>
> <http://juan.gulo.org/area2.png>
>
> but I obtain a negative area. I have checked it and there is not lines > crossing over others. For the "horizontal" part of the figure the line > begins and finishes in negative values of "y" (that is, the first and > last point), but is it a problem?
>
> Ideas? I have been looking at it all the weekend but I don't have any > clue about the possible problem.

The code you are using is incorrect. :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---