Subject: Re: Full text searching of IDL code libraries?
Posted by Jared Espley on Wed, 09 Dec 2009 22:15:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Dec 9, 12:25 pm, jeanh
<jghasb...@DELETETHIS.environmentalmodelers.ANDTHIS.com> wrote:
> Hi,
>
> well, hum, it is not that hard...
>
> 1)select a file in your project
> 2)go the the search menu / search (ctrl + H)
> 3)in "containing text", put your search string > 4)in "scope", select "enclosed project" (to search only on the current > project, or "workspace" to search for all files. Alternatively, click on > "working set", then "choose" then "new". You can them select all the > projects or individual files that interest you > 5)click "search" or on "replace" The search results appear in a new > window and the "replace" dialog box let you process entry by entry, file > by file.
>
> Jean

I don't have any projects. I tried understanding this new way of using IDL when I got IDL 7 forced on me but I didn't make headway after some meager effort. Instead, I just keep my IDL path updated and compile things and keep my directories manually organized. Thus when I try to use the IDL search function none of the options under 'scope' turn up any of my files.

Wingrep worked great. Thanks David.