No news, but repeated requests from the audience, especially during Tuesday's open forum. I think ITTVIS acknowledges the need, but--as always-- has a lot on their plate. In my view, they can't be doing graphics this nice without seeing clearly that this in how widgets should work, too.

Personally, I think they understand the need. When they might get it done is anyone's guess. I didn't hear anyone give anything away, even in private conversations.

Cheers,

David
