
Subject: Re: outline keyword for bar_plot
Posted by [Matt\[1\]](#) on Thu, 25 Mar 2010 21:51:28 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Figured it out - I just had to change the !p.color system variable from 0, which I had assigned to white in my color table to 1, which is black in my color table....

On Mar 25, 4:54 pm, Matt <mmsmith1...@gmail.com> wrote:

> I've run into a problem that I suspect is simple to solve but I can't > figure it out. When I use bar_plot in the windows device I can use the > outline keyword to draw a black outline around the bars. When I switch > to the PS device the outlines are drawn white, against a white > background. I need them to draw black. Does anyone out there know the > setting I need to change for this? The bar_plot command does not > appear to have any keywords to change this except maybe background, > but I tried that and it's still plotting black no matter what. Any > suggestions? Thanks...
