
Subject: Re: Setting the IDL Path

Posted by penteado on Tue, 05 Oct 2010 18:02:06 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Oct 5, 8:51 am, Jeremy Bailin <astroco...@gmail.com> wrote:

> Incidentally, I can relate from experience that when you have a > gazillion variables you want to put in a save file, SAVE, /ALL is not > the way to go. Since it also saves !PATH... and if you then try to > restore that file on a different system where things are located in > different places, you can get yourself very very confused!

IDL_Savefile objects and Craig Markwardt's cmsvlib (<http://www.physics.wisc.edu/~craigm/idl/cmsave.html>) can help with that, allowing to query the file and choose, pack or rename the variables to restore.
