Subject: Re: Chance to Become Famous in IDL Circles!
Posted by David Fanning on Tue, 19 Oct 2010 12:38:35 GMT

Folks,

This is the last call to make yourself famous. Images are heading to the book designer by the end of the week.
Make sure your best IDL work is among them!

I've received some VERY nice images. Thank you to all who have participated so far. I am particularly in need of line, contour, and image plots. Whatever you think is your best IDL work.

Send 'em in! :-)

Cheers,

David

> I have been talking to book cover designers this week > about designs for a book series I am in the process of writing.
> We would like to incorporate a number of IDL visualizations > in the design. I have some, of course, but this group > is such an integral part of everything I do, I thought > you might want to participate and have a chance at > becoming famous.
>
> So, if you are interested, I am looking for colorful > examples of IDL graphical output, preferably in > PostScript format, but fairly high resolution images > are acceptable, too. (Please, nothing displayed with > the rainbow color table!!)
>
> I can't pay you. I may be able to buy you a drink
> if I sell any books. :-)
>
> But you have a chance to become famous and have your > design on a book that is sure to compete with old > Kurt Vonnegut re-prints on Amazon's Best Seller > list.
>
> Drop me a line if you are interested. No promises, > but if it looks great, you have a shot. :-)
>
> Cheers,
>

> David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")