Folks,

I was just reading an article about Windows 8.0. There seems to be no end to our problems, as this system promises to "revolutionize the way we do computing", too. I'm wondering if IDL 8.0 and Windows 8.0 are twins, separated at birth. :-(

Cheers,

David

P.S. Let's just say I'm old enough to know that when something promises to "change the way you work" it's not a Good Thing. :-(
