

---

Subject: Re: the "real" screen size

Posted by David Fanning on Tue, 26 Oct 2010 20:41:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Mike Galloy writes:

```
> My screen resolution is 1680 x 1050:
>
> IDL> print, get_screen_size()
>      1680      1028
>
>> I'm I correct that:
>>
>>   Device, Get_Screen_Size=theSize
>>
>> On a Mac, actually gives the screen or monitor size?
>
> This, as well as using IDLsysMonitorInfo::getRectangles(), returns the > same thing:
>
> IDL> Device, Get_Screen_Size=theSize
> IDL> print, thesize
>      1680      1028
```

OK, thanks. Back to the drawing board. :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---