
Subject: Re: X window error

Posted by jtmcahill on Wed, 01 Dec 2010 00:38:28 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Nov 29, 9:59 am, "Kenneth P. Bowman" <k-bow...@null.edu> wrote:

```
> In article
> <413fb72e-84f9-4851-9d5b-f00ac8f76...@l8g2000yqh.googlegroups .com >,
>
> Hawaiianite <jtmcah...@gmail.com> wrote:
>> Hello,
>
>> I keep getting an X windows badmatch error when trying to write a png >> file. It's worked perfectly fine on other computers but apparently >> something is different about the environment on my current computer.
>
>> if keyword_set(png_file) then begin >>     wset, 0 & rgbSnapshot = tvrd(TRUE=1)
>>     write_png, png_file, rgbSnapshot
>> endif
>
>> Does anyone have any thoughts?
>
>> Thanks!
>
> This works for me
>
> WRITE_PNG, 'filename.png', TVRD(TRUE=1)
>
> Is png_file a valid file name (ending in .png)?
>
> Ken Bowman
```

Yes, it is a valid file name ending in .png that I set at the command to begin.
